New Children's Book Voices the Adventures of Foster Dogs

Adventures of Sunny Paws and Her Foster Dogs was penned to help children learn life lessons from our four-legged friends

Atlanta, GA - First time author, Sonji Lee, has been a dog lover her entire life. Lee recently released her children's book series Adventures of Sunny Paws and Her Foster Dogs. The series is a collection of short stories inspired by her experience in caring for pups as a foster mom with Ahimsa House. Ahimsa House is a non-profit organization dedicated to helping victims of domestic/intimate partner violence and their pets escape to safety together. Their aim is to RESCUE. REBUILD. REUNITE.

"I hope these short stories will encourage heartfelt discussions with children about empathy, trust, care, love, family, and second chances. These are lessons that will serve them well throughout their lives and the lives of those they impact," Lee stated.

The stories told from the pets' perspectives give the reader an insight into the unpredictable adventures of these lovable pups. Lee encourages readers to become immersed in the stories and share their own adventures and lessons from their interactions with their beloved foster or adopted pets.
